TO CONGRESS ON GOOD STORIES

Judge Romjue of Macon Practiced Art of Making People Laugh.

Judge M. A. Romjue, LL. B., '04, attained the goal of his ambitions when he was elected as congressman in the First Missouri District last week.

Since he was 10 years old Judge Romjue has had his eyes focused on Washington. He set his mind on going to Congress, but had a great handicap to overcome. He was afraid to speak in public. He practiced on friends, a few at a time, and after finding that he could speak; he was confronted by the problem of something to talk about. He soon learned that audiences do not want a lot of information thrown at them, but want some interesting human interest stories. So while the other candidates were handing out "old statistics and solid information by the yard," "Andy" was drawing applause by his clever stories. He never talks long, and promised to be equally good in Congress.

TALKS OF RURAL CHURCH WORK

Prof. A. W. Taylor Lectures to Students of Short Agricultural Course.

How the rural church of today is adapting itself to the needs of the community was discussed yesterday morning at Switzler Hall, by A. W. Taylor, professor of the Bible, of the Missouri Bible College, before the class of short course agricultural students. The lecture was illustrated.

Professor Taylor told how the church has become a social as well as a religious center. That the idea is not to over-church the community, but to have fewer and better equipped churches with resident pastors. The farmer needs less theology and more practical religion, he said, and the church should be a meeting place for farmers to discuss agricultural problems.

Dow, '98, Again Loses by Small Vote.

Hard luck seems to be following Harvey D. Dow, of Sedalia, LL. B. '98. Four years ago, when he ran for state senator on the Republican ticket, he was defeated by one vote. This year he ran for circuit judge and in the early return led his Democratic opponent, H. B. Shain, by a plurality of forty-one. Then the absentee ballots came in, and he lost by six votes.

ing to reach the ball, for it was his only chance to score.

Nebraska Still Leads the Conference Race.

Nebraska now leads the Valley race, with Missouri, Ames and the Kansas Aggies tied for second. The race is decided on the average of games won and lost and not by comparative score; so the Tigers, though they lost to the Aggies, are tied with them. Nebraska has won two games and lost none; the Kansas Aggies, Ames and Missouri have won one and lost one. Kansas has won none and lost one. Washington and Drake are out of the running.

The Tigers' only chance for the championship is now a rather slim one. Nebraska must lose to Kansas, and Missouri must beat the Jayhawkers. This would give each team two won and one lost, and comparative scores would have to settle the dispute.

Papers Disagree on Figures of Game.

Few papers in the Middle West agree on the figures of the game. The figures compiled by representatives of the Manhattan Collegian and the correspondents of the Missourian give Missouri 14 first downs to the Aggies' 8, and 217 yards by rushing the ball to 115 by the Aggies. Missouri also made more yards on forward passing than the Aggies.

Seats For Kansas Game Are Selling Rapidly.

About three-fourths of the block of 2,500 seats reserved for Missouri rooters at McCook Field for the Missouri-Kansas game on Thanksgiving Day had been applied for this morning. Seats will be distributed this evening to all those who have applied. Two hundred tickets were sent to Kansas City for Tiger followers there. The other 2,300 seats are for Columbia and out-of-town people.

Tigers Get a Royal Welcome at Manhattan.

The Missouri football team was given a royal welcome by the Kansas Aggie rooters at Manhattan Saturday. The band, led by Mr. Ozme, former leader of the Missouri band, played "Old Missouri" as Captain Lansing led the Tigers on to the field. Time after time they cheered for Missouri when any of the team were injured.

Last year the Aggies were written up in the paper for failing to show hospitality to visiting teams and officials. If anyone thinks they are not true sportsmen now, that person should take a trip to Manhattan and be convinced. The spirit shown Saturday speaks well for the athletic department and the students at the Kansas school.
